

Reiteration Of Charges Against Galski Denounced

Member Of Party Entertained At Dinner Given By Opera Star In 1916 Declares No Pro-German Sentiment Expressed In Song Or Otherwise

DESPITE the official authorized statement by the department of justice that Galski did not toast the Kaiser and that no song glorifying the sinking of the Lusitania was sung, the charges are again repeated in the Republican today, with further inquiries made of The Bee by its readers, who are considering attending the Galski concert Monday night.

To further clear the situation, The Bee publishes Galski's own statement of that New Year's dinner.

It also publishes the statement, obtained by telephone this morning of Marcus Samuels, lawyer of San Francisco, who with his wife were guests on that occasion, in company with many Americans, Englishmen, Italians and French.

Samuels served as a four-minute speaker during the war, and previous thereto co-operated with the secret service in arresting Germans who were conspiring to coal German vessels.

By MARCUS SAMUELS

The charge that Galski either toasted the Kaiser or that any song celebrating the sinking of the Lusitania was sung at Galski's dinner is false, was proven so long ago and the rebirth of such fabrications at this time is contemptible.

Attended Dinner
Both Mrs. Samuels and myself attended the dinner. We sat at the table with an English friend, who was bitterly anti-German. In the company also were many Americans, French and Italians.

The slightest glorification of the sinking of the Lusitania or the German cause would have produced a riot.

At no time did Galski toast the Kaiser or in any way comment upon the German cause.

Incident Explained
Galski, the singer, also something of a comedian, has written a humorous composition of his own which he sang.

It had nothing to do with the Lusitania or the war. My English friend at the same table knows German and understood it fairly well and my wife has a thorough knowledge of it, as well as of Italian and French.

Charges Proven False
There is not a shred of truth that the song was in any way connected with the German side of the war.

Later such charges were made, whereupon the song was published word for word, and statements from many at the dinner, and the newspaper which published it apologized for the mistake which it had made.

There is no excuse for the reiteration of charges long ago proven false, which any one interested, easily could have discovered to have been false.

Accusation Rejected
Mrs. Samuels and myself, as well as the other Americans present, the accusation that we listened in silence to any glorification of the Lusitania.

It is just as silly to believe that the staunch English, French and Italians would have countenanced anything of the kind.

The story is a complete fabrication from beginning to end. In injustice to a good woman and thoroughly contemptible.

By JOHANNA GADSKI
I have been accustomed for years before the war to give an annual New Year's celebration on which occasion from 100 to 150 guests were invited and unceremoniously accepted such invitation. My guests included all nationalities—my American friends, English, German, French and Italian colleagues.

On the opera, the party in question took place about one year after the sinking of the Lusitania, which action, let it be said once, for all, I did not only feel horrified over but deeply regretted the loss of life.

Partly Explained
To return to the New Year's party. At these affairs some of my collectors had always been kind enough to help me entertain my guests by singing or playing. Mr. Galski, German baritone, had on that evening written a song, which at the time I did not even hear, as I was in the dining room preparing the 12 o'clock punch. As later on he had the song printed in the paper the collector had had any time. It was a parody on an old German operetta and had nothing whatever to do with the Lusitania, nor anything connected with it.

Guests Give Statements
I am in possession of statements by various guests who were at this party to the effect that nothing happened at this time which was of my parties. Sworn statements can be had of witnesses to this effect.

A critic of a New York paper, who was a personal enemy of my husband's made his own vindictive version which he claimed to be an accurate translation of the original song, and during the following

THANKSGIVING'S OBSERVED HERE WITH SERVICES

Churches Prepare Elaborate Programs; Universal Attendance

CONGREGATIONS UNITE TO GIVE THANKS TOGETHER

Festive Spirit Also Part Of Acknowledgment Of Thanks

Thousands of Fresnoans to-day laid aside their personal labors and cares and dedicated the day to the Creator, giving thanks for blessings bestowed during the past year.

Festive Spirit
While Thanksgiving services in the churches were the predominant characteristic of Thanksgiving Day observance in Fresno, the day was also marked by the customary festive spirit in which other thousands participated.

In a Thanksgiving address earlier in the week Rev. Thomas T. Giffen said that "it is no sin to have a good time, and that Thanksgiving time should be the occasion for merriment and festivity as well as being the occasion for religious devotion."

In keeping with this spirit hundreds of Fresno families enjoyed a day of feasting and joy unconfined each in its own way giving thanks.

Union Services
Notable among the Thanksgiving services of Fresno churches to-day was that conducted at the Pilgrim Armenian Congregational Church, several congregations meeting there in the forenoon for a union service, led by Rev. Thomas T. Giffen, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

Class and creed, race and social position were forgotten by the several hundred persons who participated in the service and raised their voices in songs of thanksgiving and praise. Assisting in the service were pastors of several other Fresno churches, each of which was represented by members of its congregation.

Rev. C. C. Carter, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, gave a responsive reading which touched a sympathetic chord in the hearts of perhaps every member of his audience, and Rev. Garabed Misirlian, pastor of the Armenian Presbyterian Church, read President Harding's Thanksgiving proclamation.

"The Return of Power" was the subject of the Thanksgiving sermon, delivered by Rev. Meade B. Dutt, pastor of the First Christian Church, who took his text from Isaiah 2:10.

He drew a vivid picture of the advance of the Thanksgiving spirit and the bringing together of the broken threads of national life following the great war in which the United States has participated. In part he said:

"Thanksgiving is a fixed institution among Americans. The origin of that day is too well known to need any explanation at this time. But there never has been a time when the day had the same meaning as it has this year. Thanksgiving had a different meaning at the time the Pilgrim Fathers met so long ago in their places of worship and gave thanks to Almighty God for his mercy and grace. One can see the picture of the snow-whitened fields, that dark evergreen of the forests, the rough homes of the hardy pioneers, the church buildings in which they assembled marked by simplicity which is always the sign of power."

HUSBAND JAILED WHEN WIFE'S BODY FOUND BY POLICE

Remains Of Woman Dead Seven Months Taken From Secret Grave

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The body of a woman dead seven months, was the mute witness to-day against two men suspected of having a hand in the murder of Mrs. Jennie Becker.

One of the men is Abraham Becker, the other is Rubin Norkin, a native proprietor.

The body was dug up by police last night in a vacant lot near the Norkin garage.

There is no evidence against the men save the fact that Mrs. Becker disappeared—and her corpse was found buried in a lot seven months later. So far, the body is the sole witness and Becker denies it is the corpse of his wife.

MILLIONAIRE 'RED' WM. BROSS LOYD GIVEN FREEDOM

Illinois Governor Pardons The Radical It Took Four Years To Convict

SERVED BUT EIGHT DAYS; FIFTEEN OTHERS FREED

Action Is Taken Under State Supreme Court Ruling

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—William Bross Lloyd, millionaire "red" leader of the "reds," enjoyed Thanksgiving with his family to-day, a free man.

The rich radical with fifteen years' experience in jail for violation of the state espionage act, was pardoned by Governor Len Small last night.

Lloyd gained his freedom eight days after he had been convicted with the other convicts. It took the state four years to convict him of the espionage charge.

Governor Small's pardon was based on the final dissenting view of Judge Carter of the State Supreme Court.

This opinion held that the Illinois espionage act under which the convictions had been obtained was unconstitutional. "It was a good law," Lloyd remarked as he stepped through the prison gate. "It would be good for any third business man."

The millionaire accepted the $10 "fine" given all departing convicts, with an additional $7 cents for transportation.

He was met outside the gates by his wife and secretary, who whisked him away in the family sedan.

"They treated me very decent," Lloyd said. "The meals were good and I was treated most of the time like a gentleman."

Reasons For Pardon
Governor Small, in a statement supporting his pardon of the radicals said that the fact that alleged offense was committed during a time when "feeling was running high" was another good reason why they should be released.

"It is my opinion," said the governor, "that it would be wise to continue in peace time war time tactics as to speech."

"The statute upon which this action is based if allowed to stand might easily become an advantage of force to prevent expression of the legitimate right of any citizen to express a desire for change in the government."

Important problem, that of the child has instructions on what to say on all questions affecting the rights and interests of the United States that came before the conference.

Means Of Settlement
Some of the ways of settling the straits question and the factors entering into the problem are as follows:

Execution Of King George Of Greece, Now Held Prisoner By Revolutionary Troops, Feared

Defendant To Lose If Hole Comes In Girl's Stockings

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—If Miss Ruby Adams' stockings don't get torn to-day, Salvatore Bonen, 95 Fifth Avenue, New York, will have cause to be thankful.

St. Garrison of San Francisco sued to force Bonen to take back three dozen pairs of open work hose, like Ruby is wearing to-day, saying they were no good.

"I don't know anything about silk stockings," said Justice Presidergast. "All we can do is test them."

"I'm on," said Garrison. He brought Miss Adams into court, first fitting her out with a pair of Bonen's stockings.

"Wear them 30 hours," instructed Judge Presidergast after close inspection. "If they have a hole in less than the end of that time, Garrison gets his money back for the stockings. Otherwise, Bonen wins."

"They look fine," commented the justice as Miss Adams left the court room.

Efforts Of Monarch To Halt Killing Of Former Ministers Angers Rebels

Request Of Constantine's Successor To Throne That He Be Allowed To Leave Greece Precipitates New Crisis In Affairs Of Strife Torn Country

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Grave fears are being felt for the safety of King George of Greece, who is being held captive by the revolutionary troops, according to a dispatch to the Matin to-day. That the king's fate may be that of former Premier Gounaris and five other statesmen, who were executed by the revolutionists Tuesday, is feared by friends of the monarch.

News reaching here states that King George made every effort to prevent the execution of the five former ministers under King Constantine's regime, and the general who commanded the Greek army when it was defeated by Mustapha Kemal.

Follows Court Martial
The putting to death of these men followed a military court martial which placed the responsibility for the Greek defeat on their shoulders.

The king's activities in behalf of the revolutionaries and they were further angered when after the death sentences were carried out, George requested that he be allowed to leave Greece.

In reply to this request the revolutionists immediately made him a prisoner.

George, son of King Constantine, became ruler of Greece when his father died after the great Turkish victories. Constantine was requested to come back to Athens to face trial for treason in connection with the Greek defeat, but refused to do so, remaining safely in exile.

Prince Andrew, brother of Constantine, is held in Athens, and is expected to be placed on trial shortly by the revolutionaries.

OFFICERS SEEK MOTORIST WHOSE CAR KILLED MAN

Clifford Woodruff Found Dead Near Buttonwillow On Highway

(By Ben Bureau)
BAKERSFIELD (Horn Co.), Nov. 30.—Sheriff D. D. Newell and Coroner L. G. Helm are combing the vicinity of Buttonwillow to-day in an effort to identify the driver of an automobile which is said to have struck and killed Clifford Woodruff, aged 35, yesterday at the Buttonwillow Ranch, as he was walking along a road following an accident in which his own machine was ditched about three miles west of the Almond Ranch.

Woodruff's body was found about 10 o'clock last night by Henry C. Hansen, district manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, who was driving toward Bakersfield. Hansen immediately notified the Buttonwillow ranch and calls were sent to the county jail and the coroner's office here.

According to a report made by Deputy Sheriff Matt Hines, Woodruff evidently had been driving driving along the road toward Bakersfield in a small automobile. The machine was found ditched about thirty feet from where the dead man's body lay in the road, and the supposition is that after overturning in his car Woodruff managed to get back on the road and walk a short distance before being struck by another car.

Both of Woodruff's legs were mangled, it is said, making it impossible for him to have reached the point where his body was found unless he had been dragged by another automobile.

Surgeons at the hospital struggled to cut through the iron band with medical saws, but failed. He plumber's powerful steel saw finally released the victim.

Ashwell said that he was walking through the Fresno Tuesday night and was attacked, overpowered and dragged into the Fresno woods. There, he said, his assailants beat him and clamped the spiked collar around his neck.

Ashwell denied reports that a love affair and the jealousy of a soldier rival were responsible for the attack. Another rumor that he had won heavily in a gambling game among the troops also was denied by Ashwell. He insisted that he knew no possible motive for the assault.

Hospital surgeons declared Ashwell entirely recovered and he was allowed to return to duty.

LABOR SAVING IS FEATURE PART OF FOOD EXPOSITION

Demonstrations By Expert At Bee Exhibit Will Be Universal

The proof of the pudding is still in the eating. In spite of the marvelous array of the new food saving devices, the most important feature of the exposition is the food saving devices, which will be demonstrated in a fashion as complete as to improve the skill of any woman who follows Mrs. Chase's lectures closely.

What food or combination of foods make the most appetizing and healthful diet?

Which is the safest and purest food to buy?

What is the most economical way of preparing food?

Can the most be gotten out of food?

These and a host of similar questions, ever-present in the routine of keeping a live American family well nourished, will be answered in an understandable way by Mrs. Chase. And the answers will be common-sense.

Newsboys Of The Bee In Attack On King Turkey

"GIMME DE LEG."
"Shoot me some white meat and plenty of dressing."
"Aw, don't be so particular. Didn't youse ever git a turk feed?"

"Quit shoving your elbows in my ribs."
"Gosh, I'm full and haven't touched that mine yet. I'm going to stick it in me pocket and eat in the show."

These were a few of the remarks overheard during the first Thanksgiving Day Fresno Bee newsboy banquet to-day held at the Hughes Hotel for fifty sixty youngsters.

Program Starts Early
The program started early in the day with basketball games, indoor baseball contests and general romping around on the gymnasium floor of the Y. M. C. A. followed by a long swim in the Y. M. C. A. pool.

With an enormous appetite, the youngsters marched over to the Hughes Hotel and invaded the banquet room set aside for the attack on King Turkey.

The King wasn't alone either for he had his entire army, lieutenants, corporals, majors and other officers with him.

The menu consisted of celery, olives, consommé, young roast turkey with dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, hot mince pie and coffee. The banquet details were arranged by Manager

EDUCATOR SAYS U. S. COULD STOP TURK ATROCITIES

Dr. A. Reinhardt Says War
Caused By American
Indifference

Receiving her impressions gathered during a trip through Europe last summer, Dr. Aurelia M. Reinhardt, president of Mills College, in an address yesterday afternoon before the last general assembly of the annual meeting of the California Teachers' Association, Central Section, sketched the effect of the war on the educational systems of the principal nations involved in the World War.

"Nations afraid of U. S.," "In this day of radio and rapid communication, we can't sit by and remain unaware of what our neighbors are doing," Dr. Reinhardt declared. "If America, with money and power, the only nation of which other countries were afraid, had been willing to be represented in the European conferences, Turkey would not be in arms to-day. "Warfare reduces the conqueror, the conquered and the neutral to the same level," Dr. Reinhardt observed. "Switzerland, which had kept its neutrality, was suffering from the war through lack of trade. The country had no buyers."

France suffering "Germany is not easy to understand politically to-day with three parties waiting in the background to seize the opportunity of controlling the government. France was suffering from the loss of money from the devastated regions of Russia."

"Italy was faced with a serious problem in the utter exhaustion of its soil and raw materials for export. Austria was impoverished and only able to keep going through the loan made by the League of Nations. The war had left her bankrupt without an educational system. Her problems as a republic were manifold. Teachers were underpaid."

Schools fail "Germany, with her great love of education, is keeping her universities and schools full and has even increased the teachers' pay, holding on to its old faith that if education was provided, all would be well. "England is cutting down her educational budget in order to pay the interests on her war debts and Sir Herbert Fisher's educational plans have been discarded."

In the colleges which Mrs. Reinhardt visited there was evidence of the appalling death of the younger generation. Industries were suffering and 2,000,000 men were unemployed and drawing pensions from the government because of the loss of world trade, she said. "These conditions in the different countries were reflected in the educational programs," Dr. Reinhardt stated. "In the last analysis the war meant the demoralization of education. The teacher to-day must know and teach contemporary history. An understanding of war created problems can only be reached by careful study."

Following Dr. Reinhardt's address, the 1922-23 meeting of the California Teachers' Association, Central Section, and the separate institutes of the Fresno, Modesto and Kings Counties and Fresno City schools adjourned.

Resolutions Adopted

During the three days in which the institute was in session, eight resolutions were adopted. These expressed the gratitude of the members of the California Teachers' Association, Central Section, to the Fresno City Board of Education and others whose activities were responsible for a profitable

Climax Of Unmerger Hearing Is Approaching

WASHINGTON, DEC. BUREAU, Nov. 30.—With eight or ten witnesses of the shippers' committee against dismemberment still to be heard and neither the Union Pacific, Northern California Shippers and Producers Association, nor the California Fruit Industry Association having presented their cases, the Southern Pacific-Central Pacific unmerger proceedings before the interstate commission are expected to last well into next week. The commission was in adjournment to-day because of the holiday, but will continue the hearing Friday.

Witnesses scheduled to be called by the shippers' committee Friday included Dallas P. Gray, Armona, Kings County; Frank Hill, manager, Fresno Traffic Association; George J. Bradley of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, Sacramento; and William J. Dwyer of the California Transportation Company.

Storm Center Near There is a possibility the shippers' committee will complete its case by Friday evening, depending upon the time consumed by cross examination. This organization will be followed by the California Shippers and Producers Association which is expected to be the storm center of the entire case. The California Pacific has served notice it will attack this association as being nothing more than an alias for the Union Pacific.

The association plans to open with Van Bernard of Betty City, and to follow with H. H. Madrox of Sacramento. It is against these two witnesses, the association has been advised, that much of the Southern Pacific attack will center and the object in calling them first is to draw immediate fire.

HUSBAND JAILED FOR WIFE MURDER

April, just after going on an automobile ride with her husband. The last persons to see them together said that Becker stated he was going to drive his wife to Norfolk's garage.

After the disappearance, Becker, who is a chauffeur, told out that he believed his wife had run away to Philadelphia. A few days later, the police say, he put his four children in an orphan asylum and began running around with a young, unmarried woman. They have questioned this woman and she says Becker told her his wife had left and that he was free to wed. Another man has been found who testified Becker said to him "congratulate me, I am rid of the wife."

Suspicion focused on and pleasant session; appreciation of the honor to California in the award of the 1923 convention of the National Education Association; commendation of the American Legion and the National Bureau of Education for sponsoring education week; opposition to the repeal of the teachers' tenure law; belief in the need for greater attention of activities on the part of the placement bureau of the California Teachers' Association; endorsement of the Towner-Sternbill bill in its present form; the need for the amendment of present state laws to permit the purchase and erection of teacherages and the need for laws which will protect school trustees from liability for accidents resulting in injury to school children.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE TO PROTECT KIDDIES STARTS

Tubercular Association Is Raising Funds For Next

The California Tuberculosis Association started its annual sale of Christmas seals to-day.

Seals Are Sold Each year the organization sells Christmas seals. The proceeds from these sales are devoted to the work of caring for and curing tuberculous patients and to educational and other work to prevent the dread disease.

Mrs. E. L. M. Tate-Thompson is the executive secretary of the Fresno organization, and an intensive campaign is being carried forward from her offices in the Griffith-McKenzie Building.

Children Aided. Special interest is attached to the activities of the tuberculosis society in Fresno because of the nutrition-work being done in co-operation with the board of education, whereby under-nourished children are helped and under the direction of Miss Hannah Leszynski. This work has been maintained in Fresno from the proceeds of last year's seal sale. Some children who came under the care of the association in Fresno last year were as much as forty pounds under weight. Their improvement was so lasting that they made good gains even during the hot months of the summer.

CLEMENCEAU IS SATISFIED WITH PROGRESS MADE

French Tiger Declares His Mission So Far Has Been Successful

(By United Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—George Clemenceau is profoundly satisfied with the success of his mission in America.

Whatever the minor reactions stirred up by his three formal pleas for sympathy for France, the Tiger admits he feels he has succeeded in his purpose. "I give thanks that it is so," he said simply, departing for Springfield, Ill., where he will lay a wreath upon the tomb of Abraham Lincoln.

Clemenceau Questioned. Friends, anxious to know whether Clemenceau felt he was accomplishing what he set out to do, put the question bluntly to the premier. "How is the light on the visit to three cities and the reception accorded his address did he feel about the whole affair?"

"It is success. Of course it is success," the Tiger answered. "It was in a reverent mood that the old statesman set out to-day for Springfield. It was a Clemenceau of which the American public knows little; an appealing, very serious, almost patriarchal, kindly old gentleman."

"To-day, my mission of peace takes me to the tomb of one of America's greatest statesmen makers," he said to a friend.

To Pay Tribute To Lincoln. It was all planned to do to-day; pay his homage to Lincoln. Clemenceau only had "an revolver" to Chicago. He will be back here a week from Monday to address a farmers' convention. Leaving at 10 o'clock this morning, the Tiger arrived at Springfield at 3 P. M., spending but two hours in that city; pulls out for St. Louis, at which his private car will pay over somewhere for the night, and will not deliver him at his next objective until early Friday morning.

Thanksgiving dinner for Clemenceau will not be much of an affair consequently.

KENNEDY MURDER MAY PASS INTO HISTORY UNSOLVED

Jury Disagreement In Third
Burch Trial Brings Hope To
Obenchain Defense

(By United Press) LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—With the fifth trial of John Burch in the Kennedy murder case ended in disagreement, defense counsel of Arthur Burch and Madeline C. Obenchain defendant, revived the hope that neither would be tried again.

When the third jury to hear the Burch trial reported a hopeless deadlock last night, reports of the district attorney's office stated that the matter would be taken under advisement.

May Drop Case. It was said that the trial of Mrs. Obenchain was scheduled to open December fourth will be at least postponed because her attorneys are now occupied with a case in which they have been asked to defend the case would be continued, and ultimately dropped, unless the contempt citations recommended against persons connected with her second trial, in which she will arouse strong public opinion.

Verdict Declined. Judge Seckman declined a mistrial in the third Burch case at 10 o'clock last night when the jury reported that the deadlock of the jury had been broken and that the case would be taken under advisement.

Foreman A. C. Telle, when the jury hearing their wraps in an adjournment of the trial, informed the judge there was no hope of agreement. One juror after the other affirmed the same belief and the court discharged the jury and continued the case until next Tuesday.

Burch Unmoved. Burch himself received the announcement without emotion. As he

RED CROSS WILL SOON END DRIVE
$15,000 Must Be Raised Before Local Quota Is Reached

A final clean up of Red Cross memberships will be made in the next few days under the direction of an emergency committee consisting of: Rev. Thomas Clayton, Ward R. McIntire, Eliot Bradley, George Colburn, William H. H. Mann, Roy A. Miller, Clarence Staples, P. H. Jones, William St. Sure, Frank E. Minard, E. M. Hartman, D. L. Newman, Dr. F. J. McKenna, George P. S. Shaw, Neil Committee of the American Red Cross, E. B. McDonald, N. R. Sweet, R. O. Deacon, and George W. Turner.

The subscriptions total $11,415 and the balance of $15,000 must be raised in a short time.

An appeal is being made to organized labor to follow its fine record of the past years in aiding the Red Cross by donating to the Local Council.

Red Cross Trained "The American Red Cross is our National Emergency Fund with which to meet our greatest disaster. Wherever disaster strikes, at home or abroad, the Red Cross has always been on duty."

The importance of the Junior Red Cross in the work of aiding stricken humanity is brought out in a statement issued to-day by D. L. Newman, a member of the executive committee of the American Red Cross, Fresno Chapter, and also the necessity for encouraging children in the work of the Junior Red Cross.

There are two things that should be kept in mind by the Red Cross: first, to be ready to meet the needs of the stricken; second, to be ready to meet the needs of the stricken.

mind of every thinking man and woman in the United States. Training The Child

The first is that despite our complacency in what little we have done, we are only on the threshold of solving the most interesting problem in modern civilization—the training of the boy and the girl.

"Unfortunately our best endeavors along this line are not producing eminent success. There are too many gold mines and oil wells and railroads and trading congestion in the world's barter and trade diplomacy and statecraft have never been able to keep their skirts clear from the contaminating touch of profit and loss."

There must be a more subtle agency than this, if the world is to find peace—something more lasting in its influence upon the future, if the world is going to make treaties and keep them. There will be no contradiction when we say that that force is the incultivation and development of natural and human sympathy and confidence among the children of the world. In this work the Junior American Red Cross may proudly claim that it has been the pioneer."

Fugitive Slayer Taken
By San Diego Police

SAN DIEGO (Cal.), Nov. 30.—Jerry Dalton, alias William Birchfield, 35, was arrested here to-day by sheriff's officers. They say that Dalton killed a man and a woman in Franklin, N. C., in 1918. The murderer was convicted and sentenced to be electrocuted, but escaped from jail when two prisoners sawed the bars. Dalton has admitted he is the slayer, officers say.

SOCIAL NEWS

A simply appointed wedding at noon today at the R. J. Woodward home, Miss Alice Woodward became the bride of Harry O'Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Connor of San Francisco. The rooms of the home were decorated with a profusion of pink and white chrysanthemums.

The bride was crowned in a hand-made costume of a draped design made of metallic beaded changeable cloth of electric blue, rose and silver, and from her shoulders hung a beautiful silver scarf. She wore a large black velvet hat, trimmed with silver foil.

Miss Verina Vogel, her cousin, was her only attendant.

She wore an afternoon dress of American Beauty colored georgette crepe, heavily trimmed with crystal beads in the pastel shades. Her hat is made of black velvet with a lace veil gracefully draped over the brim.

O. J. Woodward, Jr., brother of the bride, was the best man.

A wedding dinner is being served around a large table in the dining room. In the center is a formal floral arrangement of pink roses and blue corn flowers. The guests at the table are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Connor of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Woodward and son, Bobby, O. J. Woodward, William Woodward and his fiancée, Miss Verina Vogel, O. J. The new home will be made in San Francisco.

Mr. O'Connor is a University of California man and it was while Miss Woodward was attending the same university that the romance had its beginning. He is a member of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. He has made many records and won numerous medals in athletics, particularly in swimming. When 15 he swam the Golden Gate in competition with older men and made record time. While in college he was captain of the water polo team and is now an active member of the Olympic Club. His father is associated with the Anglo-California Trust Company of San Francisco.

CITY CHRISTMAS TREE IS PLANNED

Lodges And Civic Organizations Preparing For Celebration

Christmas cheer plans indicate a gala Yuletide for the needy families in Fresno.

Monster Tree

A fifty-foot evergreen with its branches cranking and groaning under the weight of candy, nuts, and other presents. They will be distributed to the poor kiddies from the tree.

On Christmas day the organization will distribute the Yuletide baskets. With the elimination of duplicates names on the list it is anticipated that no needy family in the city will be overlooked.

Hosts Co-operate

During the meeting last night Secretary Johnson outlined the purpose of the organization and pleaded for the co-operation of the various organizations assisting in the work. The different committees also gave reports of the work accomplished. A few of the committees will make more definite reports at a meeting to be held next Tuesday at the Labor Temple.

The Yuletide committee will also meet some day next week at the Commercial Club for completion of the general list. The different committees are:

Finance: Ben R. Walker, Lions Club; G. P. Cummings, Knights of Pythias; A. S. Weber, plumbers' union; J. E. Holden, musicians' union; Mrs. E. Rowland, American Legion Auxiliary; W. Capital Punishment Is Scored By Canadians

WINNIPEG (Can.), Nov. 30.—Aroused over the bungling execution of a murderer in Woodstock, New Brunswick, recently, when a man had to be hanged twice, the Prisoners' Welfare Association of Canada has renewed its efforts to have capital punishment abolished.

Execution by hanging, the association point out, because Canada has no official hangman and never has had one, although for some years one individual did most of the hanging. The association's ability of employing the hangman is placed on the local sheriff, who may engage some one, or do it himself.

Mariposa Workman Hurt As Misfire Explodes

MARIPOSA (Mariposa Co.), Nov. 30.—Pete Rampara was badly hurt about the face when a misfired powder charge exploded unexpectedly near where he was working. Rampara was setting off charges for building a road from Bear Creek to Riceburg.

It was first thought that Rampara would lose his eyesight as a result of the accident, but after a later examination at a Merced hospital to which he was taken, it was found that he would recover.

The meeting Friday evening will be of special interest to the fathers. William J. Cooper will be the speaker of the evening. Musical numbers will be given by the members of the high school pupils. Mrs. R. B. Hollingsworth is president of the association and she has appointed a number of committees

Abbott will be on sale at the party.

President To Place Dry Problem Before Congress

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The extreme congestion of prohibition cases pending in American courts—enabling bootleggers to continue illicit operations indefinitely—will be placed before congress, it was learned today. President Harding now expects to present in his formal message opening the regular session next week some of the startling facts on the situation which have been furnished him by the department of justice.

Fast Secured

These facts, obtained from the justice department are:

- 1—There are 20,000 prohibition cases now pending in federal courts of the country with more piling up all the time.
- 2—This is twice as many as at this time last year.
- 3—Despite the order of Attorney General Daugherty to speed prosecutions, it appears probable that some change of system must be found.

Figures Compiled

The latest figures compiled accurately are those of June 30, 1922, when 16,713 criminal and 2,694 civil prohibition suits were pending. These compare with July 1, 1921, when 10,472 criminal and 2,074 civil suits were on the docket.

On the basis of these figures, authorities of the department now estimate that the number will reach 20,000 with further increases every day.

With a continuance of this situation in a few years, it will be practically impossible to bring a bootlegger to justice within a number of years—and perhaps a life time—after he has been arrested and released on bond.

What's What

From time to time What's What has been mentioning telephone invitations. They have a good deal to do with a wedding, and should be sent by mail two or three weeks in advance of the event. The telephone invitation is limited to informal affairs.

A hostess planning an afternoon card party or tea to be given within a week or ten days, writes down her list of prospective guests, together with their telephone numbers, then calls them up one by one, and crosses off the list all who cannot accept the invitations. Thus, within an hour or more, she will know precisely how many guests who she can make.

Occasionally, a hostess is obliged to use the telephone invitation for

HOOVER SPEAKER ON U. S. PROBLEMS

West Needs Rehabilitation Of Railways; Europe Lagging

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Rehabilitation of the railway transportation system, as a national need, and development of the Colorado River, as the special need of California and other western states; to these great problems of the moment Herbert Hoover directed the attention of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce in his address at the Palace Hotel.

"The United States leads the world in post-war reconstruction," said Hoover. "Europe is lagging behind and the principal cause of the slowness of economic recovery there is the fact that Europe is still an armed camp."

"More than 3,700,000 men are taken from active participation in industry and productive effort to form standing armies; millions more are in the reserve."

"These men are not only a direct burden on the budget of the nations supporting these great armed forces, but an indirect burden in their separation from productive enterprise and earning power. So long as that condition holds, the real reconstruction of Europe will be delayed."

"The internal problems, by solving her internal problems, can arrive at economic stability and prosperity without degrading the effort of industrial depression overseas."

"Of the post-war problems remaining to be worked out, said Hoover, the most vital is the weakness of the railway transportation system, which exerts a far-reaching influence in many directions."

With commodity prices falling, unemployment virtually eliminated, and general conditions rapidly improved, the remaining national problems have their principal source in transportation failure, he declared.

McNab-Stocker Litigation Transferred To Oakland

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The legal litigation between Gavin McNab, prominent San Francisco attorney, and Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker, daughter of E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin, which was originally instituted on July 10, 1918, in San Francisco, has been transferred to Oakland from Los Angeles County.

The suit was first filed by Frank B. Whipple, to whom McNab assigned his claim for $77,466.61, alleged due him for legal services in connection with the estate of the late "Lucky" Baldwin.

MOVIE ACTRESS SPEEDS IN JAIL
Edith Sterling, Film Star, To Serve Term, Without Press Agent

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—Without benefit of press agent, Edith Sterling, a film actress, today was serving a five day sentence in the county jail for speeding her automobile over the boulevards of Hollywood at thirty-seven miles an hour.

No License
Miss Sterling, when arrested, confessed that she had no driver's license and this fact counted against her when she was arraigned before Police Judge Richardson yesterday.

There were nine other speeders before the judge, and they were sent to jail for their offenses. Miss Sterling was surprised when she, too, was sentenced to jail, in spite of her sex and her occupation. Two factors it was thought would operate in her favor.

Lack of Press Agent
There have been cases known in which movie actresses have courted arrest on the advice of their press agents, but in Miss Sterling's case the publicity expert was missing and she did not welcome Judge Richardson's "vacation" at all.

The Deductions of Harvey Hunt
By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN
(Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Co.)

Yesterday's Mystery Solution
Harvey Hunt admitted, in the case of "The Second Key," that the assistant express agent, Gross, could not have taken a wax impression of the key, for Meath was watching him closely and saw that he had nothing in his hand but a piece of paper, that he had no lump of wax, and also saw that Meath's eyes, it wasn't wax impression. It was a paper impression.

If a key to the ordinary type of lock with which doors are equipped is squeezed in the hand with a piece of paper it will leave an impression on it sufficiently good to serve as a guide in making a duplicate. With such a key Gross could easily have slipped to the safe, opened it and abstracted the bundle of currency in the very few seconds it took Meath to walk the platform to look at the station clock and come back, and of course, he could have carried the package out under his coat when he went to lunch.

Can you solve this problem of—
The Missing Finger
"You did well to telephone me at once, Mr. Mackon," said Harvey Hunt, as the liveried butler extended a white-gloved hand and respectfully drew the portieres aside for the criminal investigator to enter.

"Well," said the millionaire, standing from the library table and extending his hand. "You know me, Hunt. It's not my habit to let the grass grow under my feet. I don't let the loss of the money so much bother me. But I don't want to feel that any thief can sneak into John Mackon's home and walk off under all our noses with $10,000, or even ten thousand dollars."

"I'm putting this thing entirely in your hands. If you can't catch the thief I don't believe there's any police detective that can."

LONGER SENTENCE IS GIVEN CONVICT

Prisoner Is Held To Have Broken Probation By Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—"No trifling with probation," announced Judge Loughback yesterday as he sentenced George Steele to serve one to five years in San Quentin. Steele, already serving time at San Quentin, was brought over on Judge Loughback's order.

"This court created a probation on a burglary charge one year ago," said Judge Loughback, "and you violated it by committing another robbery at El Centro, for which you are now arrested. Your probation is hereby revoked and the additional sentence imposed. Violators of probation in this court hereafter will be sentenced even if they are already in jail."

Steele and Miss Juanita Blighon were captured while robbing the home of M. E. Metzger at 753 Fourth Avenue. The woman also was granted probation at that time. Although both penalties run concurrently, the additional sentence increases the time Steele must serve before he can apply for parole.

Lineman Saves Fellow Worker From Bad Fall
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Saving a fellow worker as he was about to be hurled twenty-five feet to the ground, after having withstood the shock of 1,400 volts of electricity, Frank Siro, Pacific Gas & Electric Company lineman, saved the life of Gustave Rowe, 3728 Treadwell Street, another lineman, when the two men were working on a pole at Sacramento and Laguna Streets yesterday.

Siro grabbed his companion as the latter's clothing caught on the wire when he was shocked by the crossing of two electric wires. He held Rowe until he recovered his footing, and then put out the flames.

The injured man was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital by firemen responding to a still alarm. Surgeons at the hospital said Rowe would recover.

After dinner I came back. The first thing my eye was this dirty imprint of a hand in the middle of the table—see, just as a man would rest his weight as he reached over to this left-hand top drawer. I opened the drawer. The money was gone. The window was open. It hadn't been before. Then I telephoned to you and waited here for you. Now it's up to you. Go ahead."

Harvey Hunt first inspected the imprint on the polished surface on the table.

"Do you notice anything peculiar about this?" he asked, as the two of them stooped and leaned to catch the reflected gleams of light from the glassy surface.

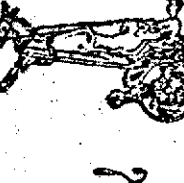

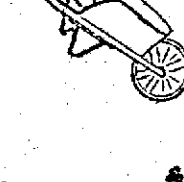

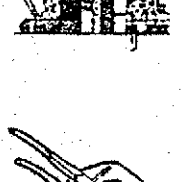

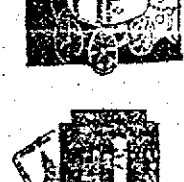

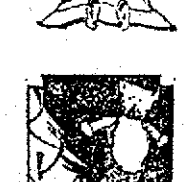

"Sure," said Mackon. "The second finger is missing. That ought to narrow your search considerably. The number of crooks with missing fingers in this city must be limited, eh?"

"And," continued Hunt musingly, "the imprint of the finger is not only missing right up to the palm of the hand, but the imprint of a portion of the palm beyond the base of the finger is missing also, indicating either that the man had a very peculiarly mutilated right hand or that it was somewhat 'pupped' as he threw his weight on it. You'll notice, Mr. Mackon, that that is a rather difficult thing to do. Also the man wore a glove, a woolen or cotton glove presumably, for though the imprint toward the wrist is heavy there is no circular opening such as a leather glove has below the clasp. It might have been a gauntlet. But no, a gauntlet would show crease marks at the finger joints. Let's have a look at this window. Here, only the thief's right hand was dirty. See here. There are faint marks of the left hand on the faint deposit of dust outside the door, but the right hand left a distinct smudge."

ALLEGED I. W. W. ARRIVE IN CITY

Mysterious Groups Come In Freight Cars At Night

Thirty-five alleged I. W. W.'s arrived in this city last night via "side-door Pullmans." They arrived in groups of from three to five and several of the groups were met by the local leader of the strike organization. No cards were shown, but a hidden means of identification was used.

The entire group foregathered in the "jungle" late last night and held a conference. Afterward, several men who have been in this city for some time, caught freight trains outward bound, while some of the men who arrived last night also left town for the South.

The plans of the organization in this city have not changed, according to a statement made by one of the leaders here last night. Outbreaks of violence are not planned but quiet efforts to control the laboring men of this city and county are on the program.

Scenes of Hawaii and surf-riding were shown yesterday when educational films from the University of California Extension Division were displayed to the training school of the Fresno State College. All of the grades in the training school, from the first to the eighth inclusive, were dismissed an hour early to give them something to be thankful for. College work will be resumed Monday.

News From Bay District

Narcotics Case Starts—Albert Heins, alleged San Francisco drug peddler, is on trial before Superior Judge Michael Roche on a felony complaint, the charge being that he was arrested being a second offense. The case was continued until tomorrow.

Accident
According to J. F. McCarthy, inspector for the state board of pharmacy, and Police Detective Arthur Morrison, Heins is a notorious peddler as well as a habitual user of drugs.

Heins Confined
He has been confined in the county jail for four months awaiting trial. When he was admitted he weighed 80 pounds and he now weighs 140 pounds. Enforced abstinence from drugs worked such a remarkable change in his appearance that he was hardly recognized when he came into court.

Girl Ends Long Trip—Traveling alone nearly one-third the way around the world with no more trouble than though she was crossing San Francisco Bay, Melani Reiman, age 13, arrived in San Francisco yesterday from Hungary to make her home in California. Southern Pacific officials say she is the first child to journey to San Francisco alone from Budapest. She speaks no English but got along easily as well as though she did. The girl told Travelers' Aid workers on her arrival.

Unpleasant Feature
The only unpleasant feature of the whole trip, she said, "was when some one on the train as I neared Hamburg to board the steamer for America, stole my precious violin."

Child In Auto Victim—Four-year-old Eugene Price, 1323 Webster Street, San Francisco, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon when he was run down at Wilmet Avenue and Webster Street by an automobile driven by R. A. Nicolai, 1942A Post Street. Nicolai took the boy to the Central Emergency Hospital, where it was found he had severe cranial injuries, and attending surgeons stated they believed he would die. According to the information given the police, the child, playing with his 12-year-old brother, Thomas Price, Jr., ran into the street in front of Nicolai's machine. Nicolai asserted that he could do nothing to avert the accident. No arrest was made.

LETTERS ISSUED IN ODD ESTATE

Hotel Guest Leaves Money
For Friends In Two
Envelopes

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Letters of administration in the estate of Mrs. Lessie Knight Journey, who died at the St. Francis Hotel have been granted to Attorney James M. Hanley, representing the woman's parents in Mississippi.

Hanley informed the court that just prior to her death on March 14th last Mrs. Journey handed two envelopes to Harry Boyle, assistant manager of the St. Francis Hotel. The envelopes were understood to contain $5,000 each. One was addressed to Louis O. Levinson and the other to Kenneth M. Adams.

Hanley quoted Boyle as saying that Levinson had opened the envelope addressed to him and had returned the contents to Boyle, saying, "Give it to her folks." Hanley stated that Mrs. Hanley also left other property and money totaling $1,000.

Jury Disagrees In Damage Suit; Dismissed

Unable to agree on a verdict after four hours of deliberation, the jury in the $100,000 damage suit of Martin Pike and Bruce Dodson against the San Joaquin Light and Power Company, was dismissed late yesterday by Superior Judge D. A. Cahill. It was reported that the jurors were evenly divided for the plaintiffs and the defendant.

The death of Robert S. Pike, who, while an employee of the Valley Ice Company, was killed by a live wire alleged to have been carelessly constructed and maintained by the power company.

Martin Pike sued for $50,000 as administrator of Pike's estate, and Bruce Dodson sued for $50,000 in behalf of the Casualty Reciprocal Exchange which had indemnified the ice company against liability under the workmen's compensation act. Originally these were separate suits, but were later consolidated.

RICHGROVE MAN INJURED

RICHGROVE (Tulare Co.), Nov. 28.—D. L. Post was slightly injured Tuesday when his coat became caught in the wheel of the gas engine, throwing him to the ground and tearing his coat from his back. Aside from a few cuts on his head and a severe shaking up he escaped injury.

RECENTLY INJURED

Information given the police, the child, playing with his 12-year-old brother, Thomas Price, Jr., ran into the street in front of Nicolai's machine. Nicolai asserted that he could do nothing to avert the accident. No arrest was made.

Banquet Rob Cafe—Two young men walked into a San Francisco restaurant at 2123 Market Street and one of them struck Fred Lundin, the cook, who was alone in the place, on the head with a blackjack rendering him unconscious. When Lundin recovered some minutes later he discovered that the cash register had been looted of $75. He reported the matter to the police and was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital, where it was found he had sustained a slight concussion of the brain.

Change Guard Rules—One of the recommendations adopted by the Adjutant-General of the States of the 9th Corps Area during their conference last week at the Presidio received a setback when an order from Washington for the order of corps area headquarters directing that in future only two officers of the regular army be detailed to each National Guard regiment as instructors. Four instructors had been allowed each regimental unit hitherto and the adjutant-general decided to increase the number to six.

Manteca Plan Aided—San Francisco is supporting a program of community rebuilding which has just been launched by the California Development Association, whose state headquarters are here. At the solicitation of the citizens of Manteca, the California Development Association has sent a staff of experts to start a membership campaign that will give the community a chamber of commerce adequate in strength and representation to meet the city's problems of growth and expansion.

Injured Lad Wins $10,000—Injuries that caused a 12-year-old boy to limp through life are worth $10,000 a San Francisco jury in Judge Shortall's court has decided.

The verdict was won by Charles Garrison, 10-year-old son of John Garrison, who sued Charles Pearson, merchant, his wife, Blanche, and his daughter, Marie Louise, aged 15.

Young Garrison was run down ten months ago by a machine driven by Marie Louise Pearson. Physicians testified that the boy's leg injuries were permanent. The Garrisons had sued for $50,000.

Child Fatally Hurt—While playing near his home, 4-year-old Eugene Price, 1323 Webster Street, San Francisco, was run down and seriously injured by a machine driven by Mike Nicolai, 1942A Post Street, on Wilmet Avenue.

The lad was playing with his 12-year-old brother when the machine hit him. Nicolai took the boy to the Central Emergency Hospital, where surgeons said he was suffering from serious cranial and internal injuries and there was little chance for his recovery.

Bell Hearing Set—Arguments on the sanity of Mrs. Teresa Bell, whose million dollar estate is under contest, will be heard by Judge Frank H. Dunne in the San Francisco Superior Court on December 5th. Four children, disavowed and disinherited by Mrs. Bell, are contesting her will and the sanity argument is a prelude to a jury trial which begins the following day and which will determine whether the estate shall go to the children or to distant cousins.

WOMAN IS SAVED FROM JAIL TERM BY EXTREME AGE

Booze Raids In Fowler District Result In Seven Convictions And Sentences

FOWLER (Fresno Co.) Nov. 28.—Her extreme old age and feeble condition were all that saved Mary Magdalen from a jail sentence when she pleaded guilty yesterday in Judge H. N. Caldwell's court to the manufacture of intoxicating liquor. She was given a suspended sentence of six months after she frankly admitted that she has been manufacturing the liquor at her home near here.

George Magdalen, her son, was fined $300, with the option of a six months jail term when he pleaded guilty to the possession of wine. He was given until Monday to pay the fine.

The two were arrested by Constable John W. Ford, assisted by Detective Jack Kennedy of Fresno and operatives from the office of the prohibition enforcement officer in Fresno, who have been conducting a series of raids of nearby localities.

Mrs. Magdalen, who pleaded not guilty to the charge of manufacturing wine, demanded a jury trial, which has been set for December 5th.

MODESTO BOARD FAILS TO AGREE ON SALARY CUTS

Mayor's Plan To Abolish Office Of Playground Director Balked By Council

MODESTO (Stanislaus Co.) Nov. 28.—Sharp differences of opinion among board members developed for the first time last night when the new city council brought up the subject of salaries of two city employees. The attempt of Mayor Sol H. Elias to obtain the discharge of Gail Shadinger, community service man, who is acting as playground director for the city, was defeated by three to two vote. Elias declared the city does not have the money to continue this work, while others declared Shadinger's work is more valuable than that of four or five policemen.

Councilmen Prewitt introduced a resolution to reduce the salary of the city clerk, L. A. Love, from $350 to $250 per month. Love served notice he would resign at once if his salary is cut. He urged the council to look into the matter more fully before taking action. The council decided to do this after Love had produced figures from fifteen California cities near the size of Modesto, showing that Modesto paid less than any other for the five offices which are combined here in Love alone.

Mayor Elias defended Love as the most efficient city clerk obtainable and declared it was inconsistent to retain what he termed a "useless" playground director while seeking to reduce the salary of the city clerk.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE DROPPED IN BOOZE DEATH

Coroner's Jury Fails To Fix Responsibility In Lindsay Case

VISALIA (Tulare Co.) Nov. 28.—Dave Dodge and Val Parks, held in connection with the death last Friday night in an Exeter rooming house of William T. Breeding, Corcoran cattle man, will not be prosecuted for manslaughter or any offense growing out of the death as the result of the verdict of the coroner's jury impaneled last night by Coroner Hadley.

The jury brought in an "opinion" verdict of the death from alcoholic poisoning, refusing to hold any one responsible.

"It will hardly be possible to prosecute under a manslaughter charge in the face of the verdict," said Leroy McCormick, deputy district attorney.

"The evidence did not indicate that the liquor which apparently caused Breeding's death was any more poisonous than most of the ordinary liquor now on the market is, however, probable that we will proceed with a bootlegging charge."

All Bootleg Liquor Poisonous.—Dr. J. E. Twining, Fresno chemist, told the jury there was no evidence of wood alcohol poisoning in the stomach which he analyzed. He did say, however, that alcoholic poisoning caused the death of the victim, adding that "the best bootleg liquor now on the market is considerably more poisonous than the worst good stuff formerly sold."

Dodge Denies Charge.—Dave Dodge, from whom it was believed the liquor had been purchased for $7 a quart, denied that he had ever had any relations with Breeding, and did not even know the man except by sight.

His son, William Breeding, Jr., Dr. R. C. Hill of Exeter and Dr. C. M. White of Visalia, Jerry Dodge, John Breeding, a nephew, Val Parks and H. G. Henderson all told what they knew of the case. Not one of them saw any sale of liquor.

Breeding Found Dead Friday.—Dr. Hill was called and found Breeding dead last Friday night. Dr. White performed an autopsy, finding Breeding dead to have resulted from alcoholic poisoning.

Jury Personnel.—The jury summoned by Coroner Hadley to conduct the inquiry with Deputy District Attorney Leroy McCormick, was composed of W. M. Collins, R. K. Morey, O. E. Embree, S. B. Noel, J. M. English, Thomas Hall, John Mackin, George Nelson and James M. Brooks.

Borings At Madera Dam Site Approved

MADERA (Madera Co.), Nov. 29.—The borings being made at the proposed Madera Dam site give every indication of being satisfactory as were expected, said Chief Engineer Harry Barnes yesterday after returning from a trip to the site.

Tractually all of the water flowing through the dam site is being held back by the proposed dam. The dam is being built on a hillside which is being excavated to a depth of 100 feet under the river. The formation is the same as was figured upon, being impervious to water and making a fine foundation for the enormous structure which will be erected there.

The rock is tilted up-end, slanting slightly upstream, which is nearly a perfect condition. The formation of the new water storage district which were circulated locally have been called in and the mail is still bringing in a few each day.
